A line of firefighters in yellow gear and helmets, carrying equipment on their backs, walking along a paved road in a forest. The background shows tall evergreen trees and a hazy mountain range under a clear blue sky. The firefighters are in a single file line, moving away from the camera. The road has a white line marking. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting a sunny day.

Members of the military receive wildland fire training before deploying to support federal wildland firefighters in 2021.
