

FEDTALENT LEARN

FedTalent "Learn" supports the unique federal "Business of Learning" for the workforce to create, assign, curate, distribute, track and update learning and development.

WHAT WE OFFER

IBC's FedTalent "Learn" offering supports blended learning with robust variations for synchronous, asynchronous, forums, seminars, eLearning, virtual instructor-led training (VILT), quizzes, and configurable evaluations with security for roles and permissions that satisfy the "least privilege" principles.

KEY FEATURES

- Learning Tools Interoperability (LTI) Integration: FedTalent Learn can integrate with external learning tools and content providers that support the LTI standard. This allows users to seamlessly access and interact with third-party tools within the Learn environment.
- Single Sign-On (SSO): It can be configured to meet each agency's approach to satisfying federal multi-factor authentication mandates.
- eLearning Integration Standards: Sharable Content Object Reference Model (SCORM) and Aviation Industry Computer-Based Training Committee (AICC) standards compatibility for integrating and delivering e-learning content.
- Notification Framework: FedTalent includes a robust notification framework that enables administrators, instructors, and learners to stay informed about important events, updates, and activities within the learning environment. Notifications can be configured for unique and specific timetables and custom messages for all learning and enrollments.
- Video Conferencing Integration: FedTalent can integrate with popular video conferencing platforms such as Zoom, Microsoft Teams, Google Meet, or WebEx. These integrations allow instructors to schedule virtual meetings, webinars, or live sessions directly within the LMS interface.
- Collaboration Tools: Platforms like Microsoft Teams, Slack, or Moodle's built-in chat and messaging tools can be integrated with FedTalent to facilitate real-time collaboration, discussions, and group work among learners and instructors.
