Final Proposal Revision

MHN Government Services, Inc. (MHNGS) is pleased to submit this Final Proposal Revision (FPR) for the Military & Family Life Counseling (MFLC) RFP D11PS18854. Our FPR Subcontracting Plan, Volume II, is based upon the Maximum Quantity of all Full Time Equivalent (FTE) MFLCs, CYBs and PFCs depicted in the government's revised CLIN structure provided under the 28 June 2012 Request for Final Proposal, per our understanding of the government's requirement for this FPR. MHN acknowledges that the actual quantity of FTEs, by MET, may well be substantially less than the Maximum Quantities. This is especially true under the Personal Financial Counselor MET, where the high preponderance of FTEs are Optional, with no fixed Baseline quantities. Based on actual FTEs, by MET, assigned to MHN, we will strive to achieve the various small business category goals established in this Subcontracting Plan.

Offeror's Corporate Relationship

MHN Government Services, Inc. (MHNGS) is the current MFLC Contractor and is the Offeror under this proposal. MHNGS is focused on Federal Government contracts and providing family support programs for military personnel and their dependents. With more than 24 years of corporate experience and the only contractor for the MFLC Program, we are uniquely qualified to execute as the prime contractor for this program. Applying our extensive experience and lessons learned, we will manage all aspects of the scope of work, oversee daily operations, and provide infrastructure, tools, processes and procedures, technology systems, information warehouse, reporting, subcontract management, counselor network development and maintenance to include credentialing, quality assurance and control, and compliance.

As shown in the corporate relationship chart in Exhibit i-1 MHNGS is a subsidiary company under Health Net, Inc. (HNI). HNI provides traditional overhead and administrative services such as payroll and human resources to its subsidiary companies including MHNGS. As a Fortune 150 company, HNI is among the nation's largest publicly traded managed healthcare entities. The company's health plans and Government contracts subsidiaries provide health benefits to more than 6.7 million eligible individuals across the country through commercial group, individual, Medicare, Medicaid, MFLC, TRICARE, and Veterans Affairs programs.

Health Net Federal Services (HNFS) is also a subsidiary company under HNI. MHNGS will rely upon HNFS as an integral partner to provide, among other things, travel booking and travel cost management; accounting and financial controls; security and records retention and control; Government contracts/subcontracts administration; legal and Privacy Office. For convenience, this affiliate team of MHNGS and HNFS that is described in our proposal is referred to collectively as "MHN". However, the specific services provided by HNFS are limited to those described above and where expressly noted in the proposal. HNFS has an accurate and current Central Contractor Registration (CCR) and Online Representations and Certifications Application (ORCA) as a Federal Government contractor itself, and meets all requirements for contracting with the Federal Government. HNFS also holds current Federal contracts, including the TRICARE North contract.

HNI, as the ultimate parent of the Offeror, will guarantee that the Offeror performs its responsibilities under the contract.

VOLUME II: SUBCONTRACTING PLAN (FACTOR 4)

SECTION 1: MISSION EXECUTION TASK 3A – GENERAL MFLC SUPPORT (L.19, M.4)

1.0 Subfactor I: Subcontract Management (L.18, M.4)

This Volume II, Subcontracting Plan, has been prepared in full compliance with all requirements of Sections L and M of RFP No. D11PS18854 for the Military & Family Life Counseling (MFLC) Program. Included herein please find full details on MHN Government Services, Inc. (MHN) subcontract management approach for the resulting contract, plus our proposed Small Business Subcontracting Plan which includes the dollar and percentage goals we propose subcontracting across the various small business categories. Please note that in order to respond to the specific Section L and M compliance requirements in a manner consistent with the order in which the same are required by the Solicitation, our responses to the FAR 19.7 requirements will be found in many areas throughout this Volume II, as opposed to a stand-alone Small Business Subcontracting Plan. Our Plan is, nevertheless, in full accord with the requirements of FAR 19.7 and DFARS 215.304.

Volume IIA has been constructed to comply with the Solicitation's requirements supporting the MFLC Mission Execution Task (MET), as detailed below:

- Section 1.0: Addresses Subcontract Management compliance
- Section 2.0: Addresses the Small Business Subcontracting Plan specifics.

In continuation of the ongoing practices under our existing MFLC contract, MHN will utilize certain functions of our corporate affiliate, Health Net Federal Services, LLC (“HNFS”), to support any contract to result from Solicitation No. D11PS18854. Specifically, within the context of this Subcontracting Plan, MHN will continue to utilize HNFS' Government Contracts Department to provide the requisite subcontract management, subcontract purchasing and subcontract oversight functions. This department, headed by (b) (4) VP Government Contracts, provides full contract and subcontract management services to both MHN and HNFS under our Defense Contract Management Agency (DCMA) – approved Contractor Purchasing System. Reporting directly to (b) (4), Director of Government Contracts, (b) (4) (characterized as “Contract Administrator” for purposes of this proposal to remain compliant with the designation mandated by the solicitation) has direct contract administration responsibility for MHN's current MFLC contract and will provide the same level of direct support to MHN for any contract to result from Solicitation No. D11PS18854.

MHN's solution to subcontracting counselor services is comprised of two separate approaches. First, we will continue to use our robust network of independent subcontracted counselors. And, secondly, we will rely upon a single formal Team Member and major subcontractor, (b) (4), to provide JFSAP counselors in the Western Region and part of the Northeast Region of the U.S. and in four U.S. territories. This solution will ensure comprehensive, timely and effective provision of important and necessary non-medical problem solving counseling services to our military Service Members and their families under the MFLC Program. In addition to subcontracting counseling services, MHN will also be subcontracting with an AbilityOne company, (b) (4) to provide administrative personnel in support of MHN's Program Management function. Additionally, (b) (4) will be our vendor for counselor contact cards and name tags to be purchased for the program by MHN. (b) (4) support is not considered by MHN to meet the definition of a “critical” or “major” subcontractor and MHN, therefore, has not entered into a formal Teaming Agreement (as envisioned by FAR Subpart 9.6) with them. However, they will be an important contributor to the program, accomplishing very meaningful work. And, finally, we will be subcontracting to (b) (4)

(b) (4) for continued information technology support services for our Information Warehouse. With the exception of (b) (4) a large business which operates under a corporate enterprise-wide service level agreement for the provision of certain information technology support services, MHN will be applying all our available subcontracting dollars to small business concerns.

As we are doing under our current MFLC contract, we will continue to afford our small business network counselor partners with an extremely high level of participation under the resulting new MFLC Program. Small businesses are not only the foundation of our American economic system of private enterprise; they also form the backbone of professional counseling support MHN will bring to the MFLC Program. Our long legacy of collaboration with our network of small business counselors provides MHN with excellent experience in managing, coordinating, and controlling the subcontracting activity inherent in placing counselors throughout the United States and around the world. The ability to subcontract timely, professional, face-to-face counseling in places such as the Horn of Africa, Europe, the Asian Pacific Rim, and U.S. territories is not easily mastered, nor maintained. Ensuring that counselors are in-place, when/where required, and addressing all possible logistical challenges requires a dedicated, knowledgeable, experienced group of professionals. These logistical challenges include, but are not necessarily limited to, for example:

- Securing Invited Contract Status under applicable Status of Forces Agreements (SOFA)
- Accommodating legal considerations (international immigration and employment, labor, tax and business practices and regulations)
- Determining applicable visa requirements and processes
- Ensuring counselor's Theater-specific training
- Arranging travel and lodging
- Providing requisite technology for on-line activity reporting
- Coordinating often-changing conditions "on the ground"
- Replacing counselors as needed due to urgent personal or family issues.

MHN's MFLC Program management team has experienced all of these challenges and has developed efficient processes, procedures, systems, and technology responses that will allow us to continue to ensure that the counseling needs of our dedicated Service Members and their families are addressed in the best possible way under the MFLC Program. Our service-delivery model under the MFLC Program could not be accomplished without our network of small business partners and we are proud of the level of expertise, commitment, and MFLC-specific experience these counselors and small companies bring our team.

The specifics of how we select, integrate, manage and communicate with our small business subcontractors, a description of their important work efforts, and how their work effort will contribute to MHN's ability to meet the government's goals for the various small business categories, are fully addressed in the following sections. We will subcontract (b) (4) of the total proposed price for the Base and all Option Periods of the MFLC Mission Execution Task of the MFLC Program, well above the government's Request for Proposal requirement of 25%. In so doing, we will also meet or exceed the government's established small business goals in multiple small business categories. We will accomplish this through the continued use of our extensive MFLC network of independent small business counselor subcontractors, under a First-Tier subcontract with our formal Teaming Agreement partner, (b) (4) (an (b) (4)), and through the use of an AbilityOne company, (b) (4). Effective utilization of our small business partners will be accomplished while ensuring their use is consistent with, quality of performance, and full compliance with all contract performance requirements.

The MFLC Team

MHN’s truly exceptional team will ensure the provision of comprehensive, timely, and professional counseling services, while concurrently addressing the desire to afford our small business partners opportunities for maximum participation in the Program.

- First, and foremost, MHN will continue to leverage our in-place contracted network of 5,290 MFLC small business subcontractor counselors that has been providing, and continues to provide, excellent counseling services under our existing MFLC contract. Nearly every counselor with whom MHN has subcontracted under our current MFLC contract has self certified as a small business concern as defined pursuant to 12CFR121, and over 50% are certified Woman-Owned Small Businesses. Additionally, many have further self certified as Veteran-Owned Small Business, Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business, or Small Disadvantaged Business Concerns. We discuss this more at length, later in this volume.
- MHN has executed a formal Teaming Agreement (as envisioned by FAR Subpart 9.6) with (b) (4) an (b) (4), as (b) (4) is considered by MHN to be a major and critical First-Tier subcontractor. They will be providing a sizable portion of fulltime MFLC counselors in support of the JFSAP Program, covering the Western Region and part of the Northeast Region of the U.S. and in four U.S. territories. (b) (4) meets the requirements of an (b) (4), and a fully qualified minority and economically disadvantaged business enterprise (i.e., Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) concern), as expressly provided for under 43 U.S.C 1626 (and as invoked by FAR 19.703(c)(1)(i)). Therefore, per 43 U.S.C. 1626, (b) (4), as an (b) (4), is credited towards the satisfaction of MHN’s small and small disadvantaged business subcontracting goals.

By leveraging our existing MFLC network of independent counselor small business subcontractors (as discussed in more detail below), and through our established (b) (4) MHN can offer and substantiate a counseling services subcontracting approach that will meet and/or exceed many of the small business goals established by the MFLC Program Solicitation. And, through our use of an AbilityOne company for the provision of administrative support personnel, and the provision of certain of our other direct costs, we will be able to meet/exceed the AbilityOne goal established by the Solicitation.

believe the strengths of our approach to effective management of our cross section of subcontractors under the MFLC Program offers the government substantive and verifiable benefits, which we highlight in Exhibit 1-1.

Exhibit 1-1. Subcontract Management Approach Strengths and Benefits

1.1 Subcontracting Plan Conforming to FAR Subpart 19.7 (L.18, M.4)

Please note that to respond to the specific Sections L and M compliance requirements, in a manner consistent with the order in which the same are required by the Solicitation, our responses to the FAR 19.7 requirements will be found in several areas throughout this Volume II, as opposed to a stand-alone Small Business Subcontracting Plan. However, our Plan is nevertheless in full accord with the requirements of Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR), 19.7 and DFARS 215.304. Our Small Business Subcontracting Plan in Section 2 provides a comprehensive compliance cross reference for ease in evaluating our Plan for compliance with each of the stipulated requirements detailed in FAR 19.704.

MHN’s Approved Purchasing System and Subcontracting Program. MHN enjoys the benefits of a Contractor Purchasing System, inclusive of its Small Business Subcontracting Program, that has been approved by the Defense Contract Management Agency (DCMA). Our long-established Small Business Subcontracting Program is embraced by the highest levels of our organization and is in complete compliance with both the regulatory requirements detailed in the FAR and in the spirit of the Small Business Act. Requisite policies, procedures, and processes support our Program. The approved Small Business Program has, achieved multiple “Outstanding” Ratings and a “Highly Successful” Rating, from the DCMA for its SDB and WOSB concerns.

MHN understands the necessity for, and has always been a strong proponent of, affording small businesses the maximum practicable opportunity to compete for subcontracting actions consistent with efficient contract performance. We commit to providing advice, assistance, and business counsel to these companies to help facilitate their success. Our efforts are extended to all categories of small businesses, including those identified as small business (SB), SDB, WOSB, VOSB, SDVOSB, and historically underutilized business zone (HUBZone).

We also fully understand DoD's Subcontracting Program and the associated regulatory foundation for the same, such as shown below:

- Section 8(d) Small Business Act – 15 USC 637(d)
- Section 15(g) Small Business Act – 15 USC 644(g)
- FAR 19.7/DFARS 219.7 Small Business Subcontracting Program
- FAR 52.219-8, Utilization of Small Business Concerns
- FAR 52.219-9, Subcontracting Plan

1.1.1 Teaming Arrangements (L.18, M.4)

MHN has developed a strategic relationship with (b) (4) a Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) concern and proposed First-Tier Subcontractor, which will perform a significant subcontracted component of the MFLC Program. (b) (4) will be providing JFSAP counselors to the Western Region and part of the Northeast Region of the U.S. and in four U.S. territories. To ensure clarity on the work share and areas of responsibility to be conducted by our teaming partner, MHN developed, negotiated, and executed a formal Teaming Agreement with (b) (4) to accommodate these important requirements. (b) (4) areas of responsibility will be to provide (b) (4) Baseline, (b) (4) Augmented, and (b) (4) Optional MFLC counselors to support the Joint Family Support Assistance Program (JFSAP) in the Western region and part of the North East region of the United States, and in all four of the U.S. Territories.

1.1.2 Subcontract Management Processes (L.18, M.4)

Counseling services under the MFLC Program will be accommodated through two separate, and well established, subcontracting approaches. Our Team Member First-Tier subcontractor, (b) (4), will be issued an individual subcontract specifically identify the type, quantity, and location of Baseline, Augmented, and Optional JFSAP counselors, structured under separate, fixed priced Contract Line Item Numbers (CLINs) which will accommodate the prime contract's CLIN structure. (b) (4) and MHN will operate within the same line of communication: the operational supervisors from both (b) (4) and MHN will report up to MHN's current JFSAP Manager and therefore any performance issues will be resolved through the existing, proven chain of command. The JFSAP Manager will continue to provide leadership and delivery of oversight services with the management and supervisory staff as a whole (for both (b) (4) and MHN) across the entire JFSAP footprint. In this fashion, all JFSAPs remain a continuously dedicated and cohesive group of counselors for the Guard and Reserve components, FRG leaders, unit commanders and RDCs in their states/territories. MHN employees who are currently performing JFSAP services under the existing MFLC contract, and who are slated to be assigned to (b) (4) under any resulting new contract/subcontract to result from the solicitation, have all agreed to be rebadged as (b) (4) employees. They will enjoy a professional employee compensation plan commensurate with and competitive to their existing MHN salary and benefits. MHN will be providing, as our own employees, (b) (4) of JFSAP-MFLCs for the base year (b) (4) for base, augmented, and options), while (b) (4) will be employing the remaining (b) (4) for the base year (b) (4) for base, augmented, and options). We note that there will be no rotational JFSAPs as we have today in the territories under our current MFLC contract.

MHN will also subcontract with our MFLC network of independent counselor subcontractors using its well-established approach of issuing individual Counselor Task Orders (CTO) under previously executed Provider Services Task Order Agreements (PSTOA). Every counselor subcontractor must execute a PSTOA as a condition of joining the MFLC network. The PSTOA establishes an umbrella subcontract arrangement with overarching terms and conditions and under which individual CTOs can be quickly issued to address Rotational, On-Demand, and Surge requirements as they materialize under the MFLC Contract. This approach has worked extremely well under our existing MFLC contract and has allowed for clear cost and performance accountability for each CTO and its associated assignment.

MHN is uniquely qualified in managing the challenges peculiar to provision of thousands of subcontracted counselors around the world, under the MFLC Program. We have managed the existing MFLC Program since its pilot phase in 2004 and through its unprecedented growth under the current MFLC contract. As the prime contractor, MHN takes full responsibility to manage all program activities, including all subcontractors, delivering seamless, high quality services to the Government. MHN establishes and manages program expectations and standards of performance for all MFLC Program management structure members through detailed procedures and agreements tailored to the needs of the MFLC Program and agreed upon by all involved principals before initiation of any program work. These procedures and agreements establish objective performance standards in all areas relevant to service delivery. MHN's MFLC Program Director, (b) (4), and Contract Administrator, (b) (4) will implement (and develop/approve where necessary) all procedures and agreements specific to support of the MFLC Program. Although (b) (4) will provide overarching management of all subcontracting activities, MHN is supplementing the management team by including our Subcontracts Manager, (b) (4), as one of our key personnel. (b) (4), who reports to (b) (4), will prepare and install the First Tier subcontract with (b) (4). He will then provide direct, day-to-day professional contract administration of the subcontract and provide backup contract/subcontract administration support to (b) (4) for the MFLC Program. (b) (4) has more than 20 years of government contract and subcontract management experience, and is extremely qualified to provide the requisite level of professional administration of all of our First Tier Subcontracts. He will work with (b) (4) Program Manager to ensure compliance with the terms and conditions of the (b) (4) subcontract including, without limitation, timely submission of invoices and subcontract deliverables and addressing any performance issues that may arise.

All MFLC Provider network CTOs are effectuated as Purchase Orders via MHN's Purchasing Department, which is under (b) (4) cognizance, and will be administered by several members of this department. The Purchasing Department will also draft and install a Purchase Order with (b) (4), our proposed AbilityOne company, for the provision of administrative support services personnel, as well as subsequent Purchase Orders for the provision of certain other direct costs (counselor contact cards and name tags) as those needs arise under the resulting contract. And, that department will also issue a Purchase Order to (b) (4) for information technology services in support of our Information Warehouse. Our established, documented, and consistently maintained DCMA-approved Contractor Purchasing System will ensure adequate controls through which MHN will acquire quality products and services necessary for MFLC contract performance. Our system further ensures that all transactions, except where otherwise justified, are secured on a fully competitive basis and all prices are determined fair and reasonable. Additionally, our processes ensure the appropriateness of all contracted services, through evaluation of the types and quantities of labor, skill level, labor category mix, and direct labor hours proposed to be expended. All transactions are fully supported by user requirements documents. Our First-Tier subcontractor, and all counselors subcontracted through the MFLC network, will report any operational issues having an impact to their on-the-ground performance through the MHN Program Director's Field Operations organization. (b) (4) Program Manager will all be fully integrated into the MFLC Program management team. Exhibit 1-2 outlines the key functions associated with our approach to managing our major First-Tier subcontractor. The Purchasing Department, under Mr. Crocker’s leadership, will also provide the MHN Program Director’s Business Operations organization with contract administration support of the Purchase Orders for Winston Salem Industries for the Blind and Hewlett Packard.

|--|---|
| MHN Assumes Responsibility | MHN shall be fully responsible, as the prime contractor, for the technical, schedule and financial performance of all work performed by (b) (4). Our subcontractors’ performance will be overseen by our Program Director’s organization which will be supported by our Subcontracts Manager. Our Business Operations organization will oversee the administrative support services provided by (b) (4) information technology support services for our Information Warehouse. Collectively, our management team will manage, monitor, and review all subcontracted and purchased work. |
| MHN Delivers Scope of Work and Assignment to Subcontractor | (b) (4) will receive a detailed scope of work for specific portions of the Program. This will include detailed budgets and schedules. The Program Director will review and approve the work plans for technical content and cost reasonableness. |
| MHN Closely Manages Subcontractor Program Manager | MHN requires that First-Tier subcontractor (b) (4) assign a Program Manager to the MFLC Program to manage their own performance and for issue escalation and resolution. The MHN Program Director will maintain frequent and open lines of communication with the subcontractor Program Manager, including weekly conference calls and scheduled meetings as circumstances dictate. |
| MHN Communicates and Reports | In addition to frequent communication between MHN and (b) (4) staff, the First-Tier Subcontractor will submit monthly progress reports, with data on the financial and technical status of their tasks. The Subcontractor Program Manager is required to attend scheduled management status and performance monthly reviews/conference calls. |

Exhibit 1-2. Subcontractor Management Approach

The Program Management team will also work closely with all assigned network counselors to ensure the provision of required services continues to meets their (CTO) operational requirements and quality standards. We will conduct weekly status calls with all MFLCs, address any performance issues/challenges, and brief MFLCs on program updates as necessary. Any service-delivery or operational issues which may arise with our Network counselors that require MFLC Program Management involvement will be vetted by the Field Operations team and technical/operational direction provided to the MFLCs as needed.

Our Program Director, (b) (4), will ensure that all MHN subcontractors, (b) (4) and MFLC network counselors, are meeting their performance metrics and deliverables. MHN will involve our First-Tier subcontractor, (b) (4), in its status and performance management reviews.

1.1.2.1 Communicating with Subcontractors (L.18, M.4)

Communication with our First-Tier subcontractor, (b) (4), is an important element of MHN’s integrated management approach. This approach includes a set of meetings and reviews to ensure regular communication and joint review of program status, resolution of issues, and a common understanding of work to be performed. In addition, our subcontractors have access to information on our MFS which will facilitate their performance of services.

MHN will establish clear lines of communication with (b) (4), as shown in Exhibit 1-3, (b) (4), Program Director, will have ultimate responsibility for compliant, successful, and integrated service delivery. He is supported in this effort by the Field Operations Managers and Counseling Supervisors for the network of independent subcontractor counselors. (b) (4), Contract Administrator, and his direct report, (b) (4), Subcontractor Manager will work with our First-Tier subcontractor’s individual Program Manager to ensure timely and compliant administration of the subcontract. (b) (4) will draft, negotiate and install the required First-Tier subcontract using the agreed upon work share, deliverables, and compliance requirements detailed in the formal Teaming Agreement established for bidding the MFLC Program. The

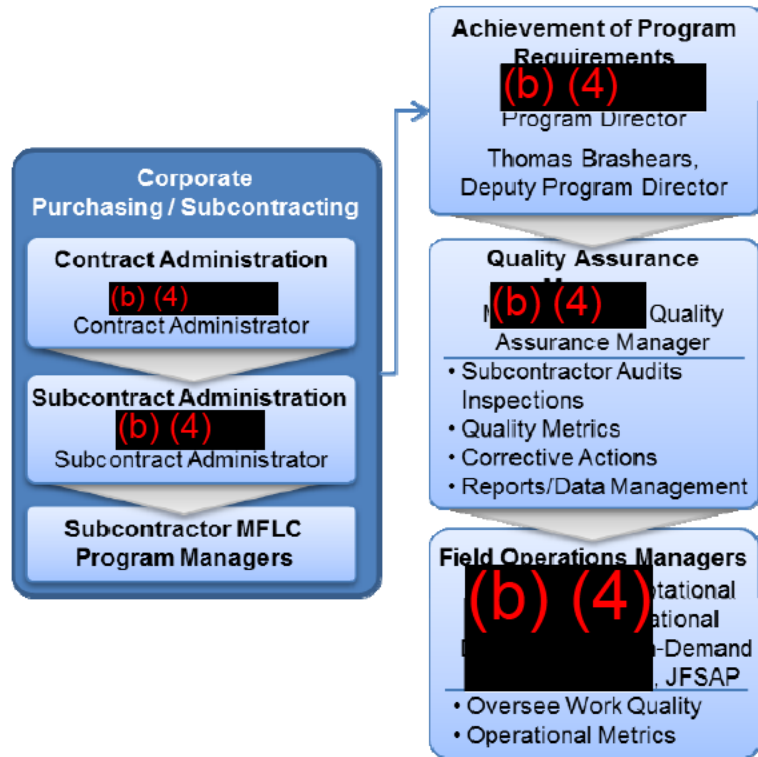

Exhibit 1-3. Subcontractor Lines of Communication

The First-Tier subcontract and all network counselor subcontracts (PSTOA/CTO) will be effectuated in full accord with MHN’s subcontract policies and procedures as required under our government-approved purchasing system. Under (b) (4) direction, the Purchasing Department will issue and administer Purchase Orders for the provision of support services by (b) (4)

(b) (4), Quality Assurance (QA) Manager, will audit all requisite processes in compliance with ISO standards, Quality Control Plan (QCP) and Quality Assurance Surveillance Plan (QASP) requirements, lead and facilitate Quality Improvement Project teams, and make recommendations to improve services, including tracking and verifying formal Corrective Action Plans (CAPs). All aspects of subcontracted program operations will report up to the MFLC Field Operations Manager and to the Program Director, (b) (4) through integrated transition meetings, status meetings, management reports, and formal in-progress reviews (IPRs).

1.1.2.2 Selecting Subcontractors (L.18, M.4)

While MHN has the capacity, capability, and scale to support all mission tasks as a sole contractor, we believe it is in our and the Government’s best interest to broaden our skill mix, expertise, and capacity for the new contract. Our approach to selecting a First-Tier subcontractor/teaming partner was to identify opportunities for efficiency gains in performance when comparing the Request for Proposal (RFP) Performance Work Statement (PWS) to the current MFLC contract and Statement of Work (SOW). Our general selection criteria for a strategic partner included:

- High standards of business ethics and excellent past performance in behavioral health care staffing for military customers

- Successful experience supporting programs of similar size, scope, and complexity that we intend to subcontract
- Expertise supporting performance-based contracts and the demonstrated ability to perform to relevant metrics identified in the QASP
- Ability to meet the capacity requirements as outlined in the PWS
- Ability to manage staff and work fluctuations as a result of MFLC peak counselor deployment periods, surges, COTR invocation of the Augmentation CLINs, or CO invocation of the Optional CLINs, under tight deadlines
- Verified expertise in understanding and complying with FAR flow-down requirements
- Requisite qualifications for meeting one or more of the small business concerns categories requirements

As a result of a thorough evaluation of the PWS, and after discounting any operational approach which could disrupt our established contractual relationship with MFLC network of counselors, MHN determined the optimum teaming approach is to subcontract a significant portion of the JFSAP counselor services through a formal Team Member. This major service component of the MFLC contract is performed by fulltime employees and will allow MHN to optimize a logical large portion of services for our (b) (4)

MHN will retain all other JFSAP fulltime counselors not subcontracted to (b) (4)

Exhibit 1-4 summarizes our analysis of the PWS and justification for subcontracting a major component of the MFLC services to our First-Tier subcontractor to optimize performance.

| Requirement | Opportunity to Optimize Team Capability | Value Added Contributions |
|-------------|---|--|
| (b) (4) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • (b) (4) | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continuous, rapid recruiting-hiring-staffing capability across many states and territories • Retention of best-in-class full time staff who are directly supporting Guard and Reserve POCs by fulfilling counseling needs across their given states |

Exhibit 1-4. Teaming Partner Performance Enhancement Attributes

MHN's Team Member, (b) (4) will further augment MHN's corporate capabilities, past performance, and capacity to perform under the new MFLC contract with even greater scale, flexibility, diversity of talent and efficiencies than today. (b) (4) has more than 18 years of demonstrated expertise in rapid clinical staffing for government agencies and long-term retention of full time staff. (b) (4)

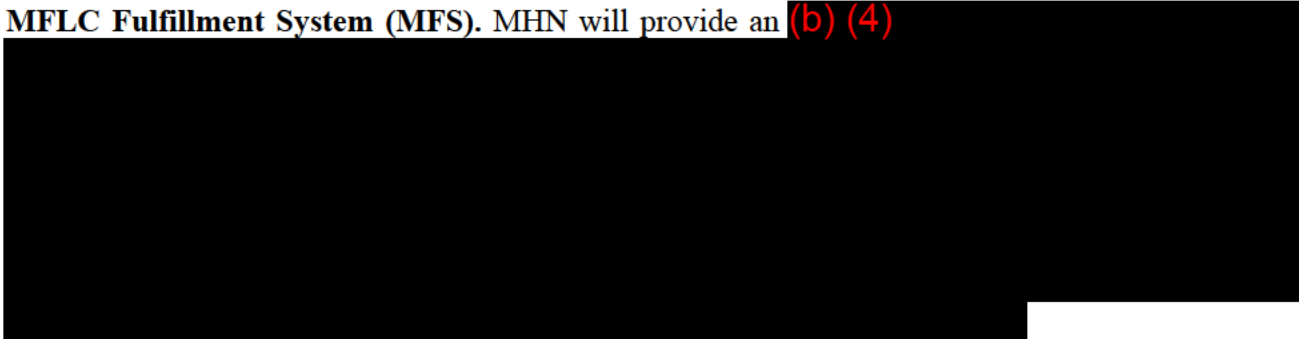

(b) (4)

In addition to our First-Tier subcontractor, MHN has an established, robust, General MFLC network that is currently populated with over (b) (4) licensed counselors. These professional counselors are independent contractors, many with their own established practices, or are members of small independent contractor provider groups. MHN will use only counselors/companies that have self certified as a small business concern. As mentioned earlier, each of these counselors are required to execute a PSTOA as part of the process of being added to the MFLC network. This PSTOA predisposes quick subcontracting of these counselors when selected for a given MFLC Assignment as all non-Assignment specific terms and conditions have already been agreed to. Thus, when a given Assignment is accepted by a counselor, only the details of that particular Assignment need be included in the Counselor Task Order (CTO). As Assignment requirements are identified under the MFLC Program, MHN will receive a Counselor Request Form (CRF) from MFLC Business Operations, detailing the particulars of the given Assignment, e.g., location, assignment duration and location, specialized qualification requirements (e.g., prior experience with being the first MFLC at a new location). An interested counselor possessing any stipulated specialized attributes/experience and, whenever possible, who is locally located to the assignment location, will be selected and offered a CTO. Assignment opportunities will be rotated throughout the Network to afford all qualified counselors an opportunity of participating in the MFLC Program.

1.1.2.3 Directing, Coordinating, Integrating Subcontractors (L.18, M.4)

MHN has a rigorous program for directing, coordinating, and integrating the efforts of all personnel on the MFLC Program. Our First-Tier subcontractor's role on the program is to provide full-time MFLC counselors in support of JFSAP program. The subcontract to be held by (b) (4) will be contractually administered by MHN's Subcontractor Manager who will ensure full and timely compliance with all applicable subcontract terms and conditions. Operationally, the fulltime JFSAP counselors provided by (b) (4) will be directed, coordinated, and integrated using the same methods and means as MHN employs with our independent MFLC network counselors. MHN's combined MFLC network and First-Tier subcontractor will be managed as follows:

- Field Operations Management. Actual counseling service performance of (b) (4) fulltime JFSAP counselors and MHN's independent MFLC network subcontractor counselors will be managed through MHN's Field Operations organization, which ensures that services are timely and successfully delivered according to assignment requirements. Counseling Supervisors provide direction, coordination, and integration of efforts for counselors on the ground through weekly telephone conferences, review of daily Activity Form completion, and availability 24x7x365 to address issues or support Duty to Warn (DTW) resolution per established procedures
- MFLC Fulfillment System (MFS). MHN will provide an (b) (4)

- Reporting. (b) (4) Subcontractor Program Manager will be responsible for documenting and reporting recruiting and hiring actions for all open counselor positions through the portal technology on a weekly basis. Using standard reporting conventions agreed to by both MHN and (b) (4) MHN's program management team will have a near-real-time view into recruiting and retention performance. Statistics from this shared management report, in turn, will feed the MHN Team Performance Management Report, the Executive Dashboard, Monthly Utilization Reports, and Monthly Contract & Financial Status Report CDRL deliverables
- Reviews. MHN has established a set of program management reviews, which will include all subcontractor program performance information. These reviews include the Performance Management Review (PMR) (monitor metrics across key performance indicators, including subcontractor performance), Subcontractor Performance Review (presentation by subcontractors' of preceding months performance including trends and open issues, and discussion of any corrective action plans (CAPs) invoking subcontractor performance), and the Subcontractor Management Review (a quarterly meeting with upper management to assess overall subcontractor performance)
- Quality. MHN has selected a First-Tier subcontractor whose approach to quality mirrors our own. The resulting subcontract will incorporate specific quality standards of service delivery against which we can monitor performance. We'll accomplish this by using the MHN Quality Specification which will guide (b) (4) in the development of their QCPs. They will be required to submit written Subcontractor QCPs that fully meet all requirements of our quality specifications and which will require approval and acceptance before the start of service delivery. In addition, the proposed MHN Team QASP integrates prime and subcontractor performance for comprehensive and consistent government quality surveillance activities
- Security. MHN is extremely qualified and experienced in effectively addressing the unique requirements inherent in higher-profile and challenging assignments, such as those associated with work in classified environments, or those in new locations such as the (b) (4)

Provider Network

The largest component of MHN's team of subcontractors that MHN will be using comprises the MHN MFLC network of licensed and credentialed counselors which MHN has developed under the current MFLC contract, and which we'll continue to expand upon under the new MFLC Program. Unlike generic commercial networks, 100% of our counselors are immediately ready, willing, credentialed, qualified, and MFLC-trained to accept Rotational and On-Demand assignments with the MFLC Program. Not only have we fully vetted these counselor's credentials through our URAC-approved credentialing process to ensure they meet all program criteria, we have also completed their criminal history background checks (CHBCs), and interviewed them to determine their suitability for successfully assisting military families. All of our network counselors have already completed pre-assignment orientation and training regimen that combines Internet-based learning with hands-on applications. Our training plan maintains a 100% course completion rate prior to assignment, which requires a passing exam score, reinforced by field-tested aggressive communication, and a follow-up plan to ensure learning retention. MHN has also (b) (4)

(b) (4)

All network counselors will use our MHN MFLC Portal to access required training and complete Activity Forms to record data on the field-based work.

Each network counselor will be assigned to a Counseling Supervisor responsible for overseeing MFLC counseling services for the location to which they are assigned. Counseling Supervisors will perform

(b) (4)

These evaluations assess performance such as the counselor's ability to give presentations, build relationships with points of contact (POCs) and the military Command, work well with other counselors, understand and relate to issues facing Service Members, and work within and adapt to military culture and installation routines. These evaluations will become a permanent part of each counselor's subcontract performance record and will be used in determining if a counselor is suitable to a specific assignment.

MHN will monitor the credentialed, licensed, and trained MFLC network to ensure high quality, empathetic and appropriate support of military families. We will conduct 100% verification of all credentials during the initial application and re-credentialing phases. Further, prior to any counselor assignment, MHN will verify that licensure is in good standing and will remain current for the entire period of the assignment, prior to approving a counselor for an assignment. MHN's credentialing program is routinely audited and approved to URAC and state regulatory requirements.

1.1.2.4 Decision Making (L.18, M.4)

As the prime contractor for the MFLC Program, MHN will assume full managerial responsibility and accountability for our performance and that of our subcontractors. The ultimate decision making authority will reside with the MHN MFLC Program Director, (b) (4). Within this construct, our First Tier Subcontractor will be required to manage the work, with their own managers and staff, within their area(s) of responsibility as defined in their teaming agreement and according to the overall MFLC Program management, staffing, and quality control plans.

1.1.2.5 Information Sharing (L.18)

MHN recognizes the importance of sharing information necessary to the successful delivery of services across all team members and counselors. To this end, we are committed to open and frequent communication among all subcontractors participating on the MFLC Program. We have established processes for information sharing including regularly scheduled management meetings, weekly supervisor calls, and the MHN MFLC Portal. (b) (4) will have named a Program Manager who will be dedicated to the MFLC Program as a key person. This manager will be a vital member of our management team and will participate in all management meetings and will be responsible for ensuring that important program information is shared with their consultants in a timely manner. Exhibit 1-5 provides an overview of key formal activities we will use to share information with our First-Tier and network subcontractor counselors.

MHN’S technical architecture for the MFLC Program provides an online program portal available to all MHN program and program support personnel including all subcontractor counselors. The counselor and supervisor portal views provide (b) (4)

1.1.2.6 Problem Resolution (L.18, M.4)

Our PMR and Subcontractor Management Reviews, discussed in Section 1.1.2.3, will provide effective forums for early identification and resolution of issues. We will use these reviews to identify issues and develop mentoring and coaching strategies to provide subcontractors with the resources, processes, or tools needed to resolve issues and overcome problems before they affect performance. Should conflicts or problems with subcontractors occur, MHN will use the following steps to ensure the problem or conflict is resolved in a timely manner:

- For network counselors, the MFLC’s Counseling Supervisor will contact the consultant to advise them of the performance concern and provide coaching and mentoring to help them resolve the issue. If after reasonable effort, the problem cannot be resolved, professional relations will be notified and the counselor will be removed from his or her assignment. For serious performance issues or violation of crucial Military protocols, the provider will be removed from our provider network

- For issues with Team Member Subcontractor, (b) (4), the problem or conflict will be escalated to the MFLC Program Director to identify the best resolution approach and marshal any additional resources needed to resolve the problem or conflict. If the problem or conflict cannot be resolved at this level, it will be escalated to the Program Executive for mediation. If they cannot be resolved at this level, the Program Executive will charge the Subcontracts Manager with preparing a formal letter to the subcontract manager describing the issues and remediation actions that need to be taken. We anticipate that most problems and conflicts will be resolved long before these formal notifications would need to be implemented. In the unlikely event that all informal and formal remediation approaches fail, MHN will remove the offending subcontractor from the program. The government will be informed of the problem and resolution efforts well before MHN takes this action

1.1.2.7 Performance Monitoring (L.18, M.4)

MHN will manage our First Tier subcontractor, (b) (4) using a subcontract which includes a specific scope of work, and applicable regulations, procedures and policies to which (b) (4) and our subcontractor personnel must adhere. MHN has established standards of service, based on contract and company requirements, for all independent subcontractor counselors and our First Tier subcontractor.

(b) (4) is integral to MHN's successful performance on the MFLC contract. (b) (4) and MHN will operate within the same line of communication: the operational supervisors from both (b) (4) and MHN will report up to MHN's current JFSAP Manager and therefore, any performance issues will be resolved through the existing, proven chain of command. The JFSAP Manager will continue to provide leadership and delivery of oversight services with the management and supervisory staff as a whole (for both (b) (4) and MHN) across the entire JFSAP footprint. In this fashion, all JFSAPs remain a continuously dedicated and cohesive group of counselors for the Guard and Reserve components FRG leaders, unit commanders and RDCs in their states/territories. We have in place processes and procedures to continually monitor their efforts against established performance standards. Exhibit 1-6 shows MHN's approach to monitoring (b) (4) subcontract performance. MHN will establish a service level agreement (SLA) related to the specific PWS requirement filled by the subcontractor to ensure that the overall MHN Team meets contractual requirements and engenders the highest possible levels of customer satisfaction. This SLA will form a component of (b) (4) subcontract. Our Integrated monthly and quarterly Performance Management Reviews provides oversight of key performance indicators of subcontractor and prime program operations. We will use our CAP process to monitor and resolve any performance issues and validate performance improvement.

Exhibit 1-6. MHN First-Tier Subcontractor Performance Management

MHN's QA Manager will use the processes and procedures outlined in the Quality Control Plan (QCP) to monitor the quality of subcontractor, as well as MHN, efforts. This QCP is built to ensure we meet the requirements of the Government's QASP, and, therefore, perform successfully on the contract.

1.1.2.8 Prior Relationship with Proposed Subcontractors (L.18)

Our existing General MFLC network, which will be leveraged by MHN under the new contract, [REDACTED] many of whom MHN has had a long-established relationship. Many of these professional relationships extend back to the original MFLC Pilot Program. Through an ongoing evaluation of the MFLC network participants and each counselor's respective assignments, only the finest professionals will be allowed to continue to provide services under this important program. Counselors are licensed, trained, and uniquely experienced to satisfy the needs of military Service Members and their families. The type of issues faced by military members and their families are often unique and require help from counselors who have experience with such unique needs. Unlike other companies, whose lack of experience may lead them to perceive that the MFLC Program is just a matter of placing any given counselor on the ground, MHN fully appreciates the extreme challenges to placing the right counselor on the right assignment. Our substantial experience and relationship with our Network of subcontractor counselors allows MHN to readily identify particular attributes that must be possessed by a given counselor for a given assignment. Knowing which counselor has had direct experience, for example, with handling a terrible loss of life incident in a recent In-theater deployment is critical. Or, having a counselor who has acted in an "embedded" capacity with a given brigade, and has established a hard-earned level of trust from its members, cannot be accomplished without a legacy relationship between the contractor and the counselor. MHN and our network will bring this unique experience to the MFLC Program.

Our Team Member and First-Tier subcontractor, AHGS, represents a new business relationship. MHN is extremely confident, of their ability to provide outstanding support of the JFSAP program. Their very successful past performance on multiple government programs providing professional behavioral health professionals supports our confidence level.

1.1.3 Ability to Meet Subcontracting Goals on Previous Government Contracts (L.18)

MHN has an exceptional performance record under the existing MFLC contract of not only meeting, but far exceeding the established goals for subcontracting to SB, WOSB, and VOSB concerns. Our current MFLC contract goal for total small business participation of [REDACTED] has been far surpassed; we have placed greater than [REDACTED] of all subcontracted dollars with small business concerns. The vast majority of these small businesses are comprised of our MFLC network of counselors. Exhibit 1-7 shows the dollar and percentage goals and actual cumulative subcontractor performance values under our existing MFLC contract. The percentages are taken [REDACTED]. In accordance with our established government-approved Contractor Purchasing System procedures, each and every subcontract and/or purchase order issued by MHN is conditioned upon receipt of a Small Business Questionnaire (SBQ) that is completed by the respective counselor/subcontractor, or vendor. No subcontract or purchase order can be effectuated without MHN's receipt of a subcontractor's/vendor's self certification of its business size. Entry of the subcontract/vendor transaction in our SAP purchase order system requires a valid vendor number, and by policy, procedure and process, a vendor number cannot be assigned without MHN first obtaining the requisite SBQ completed by the subcontractor or vendor. Thus, MHN's reported performance against our small business goals, which is routinely reported to the government, is strictly based on documented purchasing transactions for which MHN has received the required certifications from our vendors and subcontractors as their business size. The SBQ is used for this purpose. Only companies representing their small business status as HUBZone small business concerns are required to obtain SBA certification of such status. Companies of all other small business size categories (e.g., small business, woman-owned business, veteran owned small business, service disabled small business, and small disadvantaged business) are allowed, per statute and regulation, to “self certify” as to their status. Thus, as allowed by Federal regulation, MHN relies upon a subcontractor’s/vendor’s self certification as to its business size.

Each and every MFLC Network counselor with whom MHN has subcontracted (issued a CTO), since the original MFLC Pilot program in 2004, to date under our existing MFLC contract, has self certified. And, based on a recent review of our purchase transactions, greater than 99% have self certified as a Small Business concern and/or other small business subcategory such as Woman-Owned, Veteran-Owned, etc. During March, 2012, MHN asked all subcontracted network counselors to provide recertification of their small business size status by completion of our Small Business Questionnaire. To date, we have received self certifications from the far majority of our MFLC network counselors. Of that total, less than 1% self certified as Large Business or Non-Profit. The balance of greater than 99% of the network counselors self certified as Small Business. Of those companies self certifying as a small business, the preponderance also certified under the following small business subcategories:

|---|-------|
| Small Disadvantaged Business Concern | 16.6% |
| Woman-Owned Small Business Concern | 69.7% |
| Veteran-Owned Small Business Concern | 9.5% |
| Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business Concern | 3.0% |

Note: Because companies may certify for multiple small business subcategories (e.g., small disadvantaged, woman-owned and veteran-owned), or may not further certify for any small business subcategories, the total of all small business subcategories may not sum to 100%.

Although MHN has had great success in meeting many of our small business goals under our existing MFLC contract (as depicted under Exhibit 1-7 below), we have been challenged in some small business categories. One challenge with the HUBZone goal, is founded in the nature of the population of our MFLC network membership. Our MFLC network is populated with counselors who are nearly all independent small business contractors (sole proprietorships, and a few small provider groups). Typically, this counselor population has historically provided their services to the commercial market place and, except for the MFLC contract, do not generally support federal government contracts/programs. As such, few, if any, of these independent practitioners find value in obtaining the required formal Small Business Administration (SBA) certification of their status as a HUBZone Small Business concern. Such SBA certification as a HUBZone concern brings these providers no perceived benefit in their relationship with the commercial market place. To address this single issue of

(b) (4)

As a result of our teaming outreach efforts for this proposal, MHN has identified (b) (4), which is a fully qualified minority and economically disadvantaged business enterprise (i.e., Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) concern) as expressly provided for under 43 U.S.C 1626 (and as invoked by FAR 19.703(c)(1)(i)). Therefore, per 43 U.S.C. 1626, (b) (4), as an (b) (4), is credited towards the satisfaction of MHN’s small and small disadvantaged business subcontracting goals. In light of their introduction to the MFLC Program, and the critical support they will be bringing by provision of substantive numbers of JFSAP counselors, MHN will be able to substantially improve our performance under the SDB goal category in the future MFLC contract.

Exhibit 1-7. Subcontractor Performance Values Under Current MFLC Contract

1.1.4 Description of Work Small Businesses are Proposed to Perform (L.18)

MHN is committed to providing meaningful work to our small business partners. The vast majority of subcontracting opportunities under the resulting MFLC contract will be in providing non-medical problem-solving counseling services. The counseling services must be furnished by formally educated, credentialed, experienced, licensed, and trained counselors. Our identified First-Tier subcontractor and MFLC network provider subcontractors will fill vital roles in our successful execution of the MFLC Program performing very valuable, challenging and rewarding work.

Our First-Tier subcontractor, (b) (4), will be responsible for providing full-time JFSAP counselors in the Western Region and portions of the Northeast Region of the U.S. and in four U.S. territories. These services constitute major/critical components of the MFLC Program and as such, (b) (4) is a formal Team Member and First-Tier Subcontractor. MHN will staff all other JFSAP positions not allocated to (b) (4). All other MFLC subcontracted counseling services will be accomplished through the use of our established MFLC network. Through this network, MHN will draw from a large and well-established, trained and vetted group of professional counselors and small provider groups to fill all other subcontracted counseling efforts. All of these counselors are independent contractors with either their own established practice or are members of small provider groups. MHN will utilize only counselors who have self certified as small business concerns.

In addition to subcontracting counseling services, MHN will also be subcontracting with an AbilityOne company, (b) (4), to provide administrative personnel in support of MHN's Program Management function. Additionally, (b) (4) will be our vendor for counselor contact cards and name tags to be purchased for the program by MHN. (b) (4) support is not considered by MHN to meet the definition of a "critical" or "major" subcontractor and MHN, therefore, has not entered into a formal Teaming Agreement (as envisioned by FAR Subpart 9.6) with them. However, they will be an important contributor to the program, accomplishing very meaningful work.

1.1.5 Subcontractors Performing Major/Critical Aspects of Requirements (L.18, M.4)

Providing face-to-face counseling services represents the most significant aspects of the MFLC contract. We recognize the importance of this work and have established formal relationship with (b) (4) and our network of qualified counselors to fulfill these critical roles. MHN has teamed with (b) (4) to augment our corporate capabilities, past performance, and capacity to perform under the new MFLC contract with even greater scale, flexibility, diversity of talent and efficiencies than today. (b) (4) is a fully qualified Small Disadvantaged Business concern and will be responsible for providing full-time MFLCs to support the Reserve Components under JFSAP. They will serve the Western Region and parts of the North East Region of the U.S. and four U.S. territories.

MHN has an established, robust, MFLC network that is currently populated with (b) (4) counselors, of which over (b) (4) possess the requisite additional experience and qualifications to perform General MFLC counseling. These counselors are independent contractors with either their own established practice or are members of small provider groups. Greater than 99% are self-certified small business concerns and will be providing non-medical problem-solving counseling services. On any given day under the current MFLC contract, as many as 1,300-1,400 counselors are on-the-ground providing counseling services to our military Service Members and their families in both United States and at many overseas locations.

2.0 Subfactor II: Small Business Goals (L.18, M.4)

MHN takes its commitment to small business participation seriously as evidenced by the percentage and type of work we have committed to small business concerns for the MFLC contract. We recognize that the government has established challenging goals for participation by various small business concern categories and also a goal for participation by an AbilityOne organization(s). As will be supported below, MHN has constructed a team, which will allow us to meet and/or exceed all established DoD goals for each of these categories.

2.1 Small Business Participation/Subcontracting Plan (L.18, M.4)

MHN operates under a Contractor Purchasing System, inclusive of its Small Business Subcontracting Program, that has been approved by DCMA. Our long-established Small Business Subcontracting Program is embraced by the highest levels of our organization and is in complete compliance with both the regulatory requirements detailed in the FAR and DFARS, and in the spirit of the Small Business Act. Our Program is supported by requisite policies, procedures, and processes.

MHN understands the necessity for, and is a strong proponent of, affording small businesses the maximum practicable opportunity to compete for subcontracting actions consistent with efficient contract performance. We commit to provide advice, assistance, and business counsel to these companies to help facilitate their success. Our efforts are extended to all categories of small businesses, including those identified as AbilityOne, SB, SDB, WOSB, VOSB, SDVOSB, and HUBZone.

This Individual Contract Plan has been developed in accordance with the following Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) requirements listed in Exhibit 2-1.

2.2 Commitment/Understanding of MFLC Small Business Goals (L.18, M.4, J.6)

2.2.1 Method for Developing Subcontracting Goals (FAR 19.704 (a) (1) and (2))

We developed our subcontracting goals for this effort after careful consideration of the scope and volume of counseling work described in the solicitation. We also considered our Program Management approach to supporting such work and identified associated subcontracting opportunities in the area of administrative support personnel services. Opportunities were also found in our proposed Other Direct Costs. The solicitation provides for the following broad areas of contract performance for the MFLC Mission Execution Task area: MFLC Rotational, On-Demand, Surge, and Joint Family Support Assistance Program (JFSAP) counselors. Our proposed Subcontracting Plan will allow us to address the PWS components, and to additionally subcontract some components of our Program Management support staff and Other Direct Costs, as shown below in Exhibit 2-2.

| Product/Service | AbilityOne | VOSB | SD-VOSB | SB | WOSB | HUBZone | SDB |

Exhibit 2-2. Products and Services to be Subcontracted

MHN determined that all counseling services provide an opportunity for subcontracting across the full spectrum of small business categories (i.e., SB, SDB, WOSB, VOSB, SDVOSB, and HUBZone), all of which are represented within our long-standing professional MFLC network of independent counselor subcontractors. Additionally, MHN has also constructed a First Tier Team Member Subcontract with (b) (4), an SDB. The combination of our MFLC network and our formal Team Member will not only ensure successful performance of the MFLC Program counseling services, it will also allow MHN to fully distribute all counseling work to our small business partners. Further, we have identified and allocated a number of administrative support personnel services to (b) (4), our AbilityOne partner. And, they will also be our vendor for the provision of counselor contact cards and name tags. Although not considered a critical or major subcontractor, (b) (4) support services represent an important and valuable component of the work effort.

Section M of the solicitation defines an Outstanding Rating for Subfactor II as follows: “Proposal exceeds DoD’s goals for any five small business concerns, including all of the following: AbilityOne agencies, Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Businesses, and Veteran Owned Small Businesses.” The available DoD Small Business Subcontracting categories depicted in Attachment 6 to the solicitation are: AbilityOne, Veteran Owned Small Business (VOSB), Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business (SDVOSB), Small Business (the cumulative total of all small business subcategories), Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone), and Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB). As shown in Exhibit 2-3, MHN’s goals exceed the criteria for an Outstanding Rating under Subfactor II, as we will exceed DoD’s goals in five categories in total, including the required AbilityOne, SDVOSB and VOSB goals. We will accomplish this through a combination of our existing MFLC network, our First Tier Subcontractor, (b) (4), and through a subcontract to our AbilityOne partner.

Exhibit 2-3. Small Business Goals

MHN's realistic and supportable strategy for meeting and/or exceeding the Small Business Goals for the contract is more fully supported below:

- Small Business. During March, 2012, MHN asked all network counselors to provide recertification of their small business size status by completion of our Small Business Questionnaire. To date, we have received self certifications from the far majority of our MFLC network counselors. Of those that responded, greater than 99% self certified as a Small Business. And, many of those also self certified as one or more small business subcategories, such as SDB, SDB, WOSB, VOSB, and SDVOSB, as follows: 16.6% SDB (including Woman-Owned SDB), 69.7% WOSB, 9.5% VOSB, and 3.0% SDVOSB. Less than 1% self certified as Non-Profit or Large Business. It is MHN's intent to subcontract with only counselors who have self certified as a small business concern (including small business subcategories). Because the far preponderance of all subcontracting opportunities under the MFLC contract will be accommodated by subcontracting with our MFLC network small business counselors, MHN will far exceed the DoD Small Business participation goal of 32% of all subcontracted dollars.
- Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB). We have executed a formal Teaming Agreement with (b) (4) for providing fulltime MFLC counselors in support of the JFSAP program in the Western Region and portions of the Northeast Region of the U.S. and in all four U.S. territories. In addition to (b) (4), 16.6% of MHN's MFLC network, as noted above, has self certified as SDBs. Thus, through the combination of a First Tier subcontract with (b) (4) and through effective distribution of counseling assignments to the SDBs within our network, MHN will exceed the SDB goal of 5% established by the Solicitation.
- Women Owned Small Business (WOSB), Veteran Owned Small Business (VOSB), and Service Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business Concerns (SDVOSB). MHN will apply a proven and effective business model to subcontract nearly all counseling efforts to small business concerns via our MFLC network. These counselors will be providing services throughout CONUS and in all OCONUS locations. Based on the above cited recent self certifications by our MFLC network counselors, the percentage distribution of WOSB, VOSB and SDVOSB represented within our network will allow MHN sufficient opportunity to distribute counseling assignments in such a fashion as to exceed these DoD small business subcategory goals of 5% for WOSB and 3% for VOSB and SDVOSB businesses.
- AbilityOne. We have obtained a quotation from (b) (4) to provide six administrative personnel in support of MHN's Program Management function: five Team Assistants in Rancho Cordova, CA and one Logistics Team Assistant in Irving, TX. Additionally, we anticipate acquiring certain of our other direct costs (counselor contact cards and name tags) through this company. (b) (4) support is not considered by MHN to meet the definition of a "critical" or "major" subcontractor and MHN, therefore, has not entered into a formal Teaming Agreement (as envisioned by FAR Subpart 9.6) with them. However, they will be an important contributor to the program accomplishing very meaningful work. (b) (4) is a (b) (4) and recognized AbilityOne entity. It is identified and listed on (b) (4) website as an affiliated agency. Additionally, (b) (4) has self certified as an AbilityOne entity in its Central Contractor Registration (CCR) (b) (4). As an (b) (4) associated agency, (b) (4) as defined in section 8501(7) of the Title 41USC. As such, the work MHN intends to award to them is counted toward MHN’s small business subcontracting goals, as provided by 10 U.S.C. 2410d(a). As a result, MHN will exceed the 1% goal for AbilityOne subcontracted work.

- HUBZone Business Concerns. In our recent call for recertification of their small business status, less than 1% of our counselors certified as a HUBZone small business concern. In order to qualify as SB HUBZone, concerns must receive a certification from the Small Business Administration (SBA). To address the issue of (b) (4)

[REDACTED]

We believe that once these particular providers understand this, they will be incentivized to work to secure their HUBZone certification from the SBA. In light of this, MHN has assumed (b) (4) and will put forth our best efforts to meet the same.

MHN’s small business percentage goals are based upon our proposed Total Available Subcontracted Dollars amount of (b) (4), inclusive of the Base and all Option Years for this FPR. The components of MHN’s estimated Total Proposed Subcontracted Dollars are reflected below in Exhibit 2-4. Travel-related costs (airfare, lodging, per diem, tolls, car rental, gasoline, etc.) and insurance (Defense Base Act Workers Compensation) are not considered “subcontracted” costs and are not, therefore, included in the Total Available Subcontracted Dollars amount.
