Description	Protection and Advocacy for Individuals with Disabilities (PADD) is the first P&A program, created by the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights (DD) Act of 1975. P&A agencies are required by the Act to pursue legal, administrative and other appropriate remedies to protect and advocates for the rights of individuals with developmental disabilities under all applicable federal and state laws. The DD Act provided for the governor of each state to designate an agency to be the P&A and to assure that the P&A was, and would remain, independent of any service provider. Most entities designated as P&As are private non-profit organizations created specifically for the purpose of conducting the P&A programs. However, some P&As are part of state government, a few are hybrid quasi-public agencies, and a few P&As reside within civil legal services programs. Subsequent P&A statutes, with a single exception (CAP), provide for the new P&A programs to be housed within the same agency designated by the governors under PADD.

9. Accelerating the Prevention and Control of HIV/AIDS, Viral Hepatitis, STDs and TB in the U.S. Affiliated Pacific Islands

Description	This cooperative agreement (CoAg) is supported by four divisions within NCHHSTP and integrates the program requirements of four distinct CoAg's that were historically awarded. The purpose of this unique CoAg is to strengthen core HIV, Viral Hepatitis, STD and TB prevention and treatment efforts in the USAPI's, support cross-cutting activities across programs (e.g., surveillance, screening, evaluation and data systems), and reduce administrative and reporting requirements. This is achieved by optimizing public health service delivery by expanding service integration; maximizing opportunities to screen, test, treat, and/or vaccinate those in need of these services; improving the health among populations negatively affected by multiple diseases; and collaborating across program areas and improving operations through the use of shared data. Grantees are required to report program performance towards meeting monitoring and evaluation indicators and this CoAg requires both cross-cutting activities and the following disease-specific activities: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • HIV/AIDS Prevention: Deliver evidence-based HIV prevention interventions including preventing prenatal HIV transmission; increase the proportion of HIV-infected persons who know they are infected by increasing the number of providers who routinely provide HIV screening in health care settings; increase the proportion of HIV-infected people who are linked to appropriate prevention, care, and treatment services; and strengthen the capacity of health departments and community-based efforts to implement effective HIV prevention programs and evaluate them.

- HIV/AIDS Surveillance: Conduct HIV/AIDS surveillance, sero-surveillance, incidence, behavioral, and prevalence studies. These activities provide data that are critical to targeting the delivery of HIV prevention, care and treatment.
- Comprehensive STD Prevention Services (CSPS) and Infertility Prevention Program (IPP): Design, implement, and evaluate comprehensive interdisciplinary STD prevention plans, and integrate STD/HIV prevention activities. The CSPS are targeted to prevent STD's among at-risk populations. The IPP is an expansion of chlamydia and gonorrhea screening and treatment efforts in traditional and nontraditional health care settings.
- Tuberculosis (TB) Prevention, Control, Human Resource Development, and Laboratory: Ensure that core TB control and prevention activities are conducted. This includes the provision of case management and directly observed therapy; conducting contact investigations and TB surveillance; testing TB patients for HIV and diabetes; and ensuring completion of treatment. Develop human resources through improved training, education, communications, and information dissemination. Strengthen laboratory capacity to ensure that timely and reliable TB laboratory services be available to healthcare providers and the TB program.
- Viral Hepatitis: Identify a viral hepatitis point of contact to coordinate viral hepatitis activities and liaison with CDC; collaborate with immunization programs to support an increase in viral hepatitis B vaccination coverage for children and adolescents (including previously unvaccinated children and adolescents), at-risk adults, susceptible household, sexual partners and/or needle-sharing contacts; and establish and/or maintain a registry or database of acute Hepatitis B and C cases that contains at least minimum data elements.

1. Guam/Micronesia Area Health Education Center (G/M AHEC)

Description	The G/M AHEC was established in 2009 and supports three regional community-based AHEC centers: 1) Guahan (Guam AHEC, serving the island territory of Guam; 2) Republic of Marshall Islands (RMI)/College of Marshall Islands AHEC, serving the RMI; and 3) Federated States of Micronesia (FSM) AHEC, serving the four states within FSM. The purpose of the G/M AHEC is to improve the health of the underserved Pacific Islander populations through collaborative regional training initiatives across the US affiliated Pacific Islands (USAPI), a population of about 600,000. This area represents a region spanning millions of square miles of ocean with isolated island clusters and three time zones, and has some of the highest health workforce shortage ratings and the greatest health and education disparities in the US. The G/M AHEC emphasizes community-based, local, and inter-island training for health professions of students and healthcare providers while developing a career pipeline from middle school to college level. The goal of the Guam/Micronesia AHEC is to increase the diversity, distribution, quality and retention of primary care and public health providers in all jurisdictions through the recruitment of students into health careers such as nursing and public health, provision of training/education programs; continued collaboration with regional partners, health and academic institutions; and sustainability
Goals for FY2015	Objective 1. Improve the diversity of the health professions workforce by providing health career activities for and mentoring of over 1,250 underrepresented minority students a year. Objective 2. Improve the distribution of the health care workforce in Micronesia by providing local/on-island interdisciplinary training for more than 200 students a year. Objective 3. Improve the quality and retention of the health workforce in Micronesia by providing culturally relevant continuing education to more than 500 primary care and public health providers.

2. Hawaii/Pacific Basin Area Health Education Center (AHEC) Program

Description	The purpose of the Hawaii/Pacific Basin (HPB) AHEC is to improve the health of the underserved through collaborative regional training initiatives across Hawaii and US protectorates in the Pacific, an underserved region spanning millions of square miles of ocean with scattered and isolated island clusters. This area has some of the highest health workforce shortage ratings and greatest health and educational disparities in the US. The HPB AHEC has nine (9) regional community-based AHEC centers in their geographic service area. The needs to be continually addressed include poor health career awareness and preparation, limited health careers training opportunities, minimal continuing education opportunities and difficulty recruiting and retaining providers. AHEC communities work with educational and other organizations such as Workforce Investment Boards and Health Career Opportunity Programs to assess and meet local community health workforce needs. The HPB AHEC will serve over 5,750 individuals per year through recruitment activities, community-based training for health professions students and providers and innovative recruitment programs. The health disciplines addressed include: Nursing, Nurse Practitioner, Medicine (especially primary care), Physician Assistant, Medical Technician, Radiology Technician, Pharmacist, Pharmacy Technician, Social Worker, Public Health, Health Assistant, Community Health Workers and Psychologist.
Goals for FY2015	Objective 1: Improve the diversity of the health professions workforce by providing health career activities and mentoring for over 3,000 underrepresented/disadvantaged students a year. Objective 2: Improve the distribution and quality of the health workforce by providing rural and underserved clinical, classroom and interdisciplinary training for 600 students a year. Objective 3: Improve the supply and retention of the health workforce by providing culturally relevant continuing education and professional recruitment and support to over 2,000 providers. Objective 4: Perform comprehensive evaluation to demonstrate successful pursuit of health careers and recruitment and retention of 22 primary care providers a year to underserved areas.

3. Community Health Center Program

Description	For 50 years, health centers have delivered comprehensive, high quality, cost-effective primary health care to patients regardless of their ability to pay. Health centers have become the essential primary care provider for nearly 23 million individuals, coordinating a wide range of medical, dental, behavioral, and social services. Health centers are governed by a community board composed of a majority (51 percent or more) of health center patients who represent the population served. Today, over 1,300 health centers operate approximately 9,000 service delivery sites that provide care in every U.S. state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and the Pacific Basin. Nearly half of all health centers serve rural populations.

15. Western States Genetic Services Collaborative (WSGSC)

Description	The Western States Genetic Services Collaborative (WSGSC) is one of seven Regional Genetic Collaboratives across the nation. The Collaborative develops and coordinates multi-state and territory activities to improve coordination, access, follow-up, and quality assurance for newborn screening and genetic services. Designated states/territories include: Alaska, California, Hawaii, Idaho, Oregon, Washington, and Guam. The WSGSC continues to support the work of the Hawaii medical geneticist for the Guam Maternal and Child Health Branch newborn screening program; and Guam health care providers for telephone and e-mail consultations regarding NBS results and other genetics-related inquiries. Weeklong in-person clinics in Guam were suspended. There is ongoing review of all cases that were seen and outcomes after visits are documented. This information will be used to assess the value of providing genetic services in Guam and to determine next steps. Guam is an active participant in the WSGSC. Representatives from Guam's Maternal Child Health Branch and a family advocate attend the WSGSC's annual Regional Summit and participate in all webinars and conference calls. 21. Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) Program

Description	The TBI Program seeks to improve services for individuals with TBI. The purpose of the TBI program is to improve access, availability, appropriateness, and acceptability of health and other services for individuals with TBI. The federal “TBI Program” is currently an umbrella for the two components – State Implementation Partnership Grants and Protection and Advocacy Grants. The State Implementation Partnership Grant Program funds the development and implementation of statewide systems that ensure access to comprehensive and coordinated TBI services in states, territories, and the USAPI. The Protection and Advocacy Grant Program funds Governor-designated State Protection and Advocacy organizations in 57 states, territories, and the Native American Consortium to provide information and referral services, advocacy training, and litigation services to individuals with TBI and their families.
Goals for FY2015	Although HRSA has administered the federal TBI program effectively for nearly 20 years, the TBI Reauthorization Act of 2014 gave the HHS Secretary the responsibility to review the program’s aims and goals and determine its best fit within HHS. As of October 1, 2015, the program has moved to ACL. ACL administers a number of grant programs for Protection and Advocacy support services. Adding the TBI program to ACL’s portfolio allows for greater standardization in delivering these services in the areas of grants management operations, oversight and technical support. Under ACL, the TBI program will continue to ensure individuals with TBI and their families have access to appropriate, quality healthcare services to support recovery and maximize independence. This change in administration will not change HHS’ enduring commitment to a community-based approach to prevention, early identification, screening, and referral to effective treatment for TBI

Office of Population Affairs (OPA)/Office of Family Planning (OFFP)

The mission of the Office of Population Affairs (OPA) is to administer the Title X Family Planning program and serve as the focal point to advise the Secretary and the Assistant Secretary for Health on a wide range of reproductive health topics including family planning, adolescent pregnancy, sterilization and other population issues. Website: <http://www.hhs.gov/opa>

The mission of the Office of Family Planning (OFFP) is to assist individuals in determining the number and spacing of their children through the provision of education, counseling and related comprehensive medical services to eligible clients:

1. Title X Family Planning Program

Description	The Title X Office of Family Planning Grant Program provides funding to entities to establish and operate voluntary family planning services projects, which provide family planning services to all persons desiring such services, with priority for services to persons from low-income families. Family planning services include contraceptive services, pregnancy testing and counseling, achieving pregnancy, basic infertility services, preconception health, and sexually transmitted disease (STD) services. Programs should base service provision on the recommendations provided in the April 2014 MMWR publication, Providing Quality Family Planning Services: Recommendations from Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the US Office of Population Affairs (QFP) . None of the funds appropriated under this title can be used in programs where abortion is a method of family planning.
Priorities for FY2015	Assuring the delivery of quality family planning and related preventive health services, where evidence exists that those services should lead to improvement in the overall health of individuals, with priority for services to individuals from low-income families. This includes addressing the comprehensive family planning and other health needs of individuals, families, and communities through outreach to hard-to-reach and/or vulnerable populations, and partnering with other community-based health and social service providers that provide needed services, and demonstrating that the project infrastructure will ensure sustainability of family planning and reproductive health services. The complete list of program priorities may be found online at http://www.hhs.gov/opa/title-x-family-planning/title-x-policies/program-priorities/ .

7. Project Linking Actions for Unmet Needs in Children's Health (Project Launch)

Description	The goal of Project LAUNCH is to promote the social, emotional, behavioral and physical health and cognitive development of young children from birth to age 8. States, Territories, and Tribal grantees are funded to work with a pilot community for five years, pursuing dual goals of improving systems and services. Systems work focuses on improving coordination and collaboration across child-serving agencies and organizations; service goals include improving access to and availability of evidence-based prevention and wellness promotion practices, and infusing mental health-informed practices into primary care, early care and education, home visiting, and family settings. Local and state/territorial/tribal partnerships help to address barriers to success, and enable sustainability and scalability of innovations in practice and policy. Project LAUNCH's approach is predicated on the knowledge that early experiences are critical determinants of later health and behavioral health outcomes.
Goals for FY2015	FSM- Goals have in development. Guam: The purpose of Guam LAUNCH is to promote the wellness of young children birth to 8 years of age by working to achieve four goals: (1) strengthen infrastructure to improve coordination and collaboration across child-serving systems and the integration of behavioral health and primary care; (2) expand use of evidence-based prevention and wellness promotion practices; (3) increase access to high quality screening, assessment, and prevention and promotion services; and (4) increase family, provider, and community awareness and knowledge of young child wellness. A significant focus is on providing culturally and linguistically competent services and the reduction of disparities. The entire island of Guam serves as the locality for Guam LAUNCH and direct services are provided primarily through the Community Health Centers (CHCs).

Department of Homeland Security (DHS)

The Department of Homeland Security has a vital mission: to secure the nation from the many threats we face. This requires the dedication of more than 240,000 employees in jobs that range from aviation and border security to emergency response, from cybersecurity analyst to chemical facility inspector. Our duties are wide-ranging, and our goal is clear - keeping America safe. Website: <http://www.dhs.gov/>

Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)

FEMA's mission is to support our citizens and first responders to ensure that as a nation we work together to build, sustain and improve our capability to prepare for, protect against, respond to, recover from and mitigate all hazards.

1. Port Security Program

Description	The Port Security Grant Program (PSGP) plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal of a secure and resilient Nation. Building core capabilities requires the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The PSGP's allowable costs support efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across the Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas.
Goals for FY2015	The PSGP directly supports maritime transportation infrastructure security activities. It is one tool in the comprehensive set of measures authorized by Congress and implemented by the Administration to strengthen the Nation's critical infrastructure against risks associated with potential terrorist attacks. The vast majority of U.S. maritime critical infrastructure is owned and operated by state, local, and private sector maritime industry partners. PSGP funds are intended to improve port-wide maritime security risk management; enhance maritime domain awareness; support maritime security training and exercises; and maintain or re-establish maritime security mitigation protocols that support port recovery and resiliency capabilities. Investments must address Coast Guard identified vulnerabilities in port security and support the prevention, detection, response, and/or recovery from attacks involving improvised explosive devices and other non-conventional weapons

2. Emergency Management Performance Grant

Description	The Emergency Management Performance Grant (EMPG) Program plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal of a secure and resilient Nation. The building, sustainment, and delivery of these core capabilities require the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The EMPG Program's allowable costs support efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across the Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas..
Goals for FY2015	The purpose of the EMPG Program is to provide Federal grants to assist state, territorial, and local governments in preparing for all hazards. FEMA makes grants for the purpose of providing a system of emergency preparedness for the protection of life and property in the United States from hazards. Responsibility for emergency preparedness resides jointly in the Federal government and the states/territories and their political subdivisions. The Federal government, through the EMPG, provides direction, coordination, guidance, and assistance to support a comprehensive all hazards emergency preparedness system

3. Homeland Security Grant Program

Description	The Homeland Security Grant Program (HSGP) plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal of a secure and resilient Nation. The building, sustainment, and delivery of these core capabilities require the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The HSGP supports efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across the five mission areas of Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery based on allowable costs.
Goals for FY2015	The HSGP assists state, territorial and local preparedness activities that address high-priority preparedness gaps across all core capabilities and mission areas where a nexus to terrorism exists. The HGSP supports the implementation of risk driven, capabilities-based approaches to address capability targets set in urban area, state, and regional Threat and Hazard Identification and Risk Assessments (THIRAs). The capability targets are established during the THIRA process, and assessed in the State Preparedness Report (SPR) and inform planning, organization, equipment, training, and exercise needs to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from acts of terrorism and other catastrophic events

2. Navigating the Path of Totality: Total Solar Eclipse Live from Micronesia

Description	As part of its overall strategy to enhance learning in informal environments, the Advancing Informal STEM Learning (AISL) program funds innovative resources for use in a variety of settings. This education project is a time sensitive opportunity related to the March 9, 2016 Total Solar Eclipse occurring in a remote part of the world located in Waleia in the Federated States of Micronesia, a U.S. affiliated Pacific Island nation. The path of totality is only 100 miles wide and passes through only a few Pacific Island nations ending in Hawaii. This project uses this unique phenomenon to educate a large US and international audience about solar science using multi-platforms with integrated video, social media, and public programs. Project deliverables include the production of a broadcast of the eclipse live from Waleia in the Federated States of Micronesia on March 9, 2016 making it accessible to hundreds of countries and millions of people around the world via satellite and live streaming on the Internet. Additional deliverables include on-site educational programs at science centers and planetariums as well as media resources for long-term use. These resources will enhance the interest and preparedness for additional public engagement when the 2017 eclipse occurs in the U.S.

Report notes

Federal Regional Council

The Federal Regional Council (FRC) is a consortium of 25 federal departments and agencies representing approximately 60 program offices in Region IX. A primary goal for the FRC is to work in a coordinated manner to make federal programs more effective and efficient in Region IX. The FRC, which celebrated its 16th anniversary in FY14, includes several committees which focus on broad geographic areas and/or special populations in the vast expanse of Region IX. These include the following committees: Border, Tribal Affairs, Homelessness (Region IX Interagency Council on Homelessness), and the Outer Pacific. Executive Orders and Administration initiatives serve as the underlying authority to guide each committee's work in fulfilling Administration priorities.

Outer Pacific Committee

The Outer Pacific Committee (OPC) focuses on issues related to the three U.S. Flag Territories: American Samoa (AS), Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands (CNMI), and Guam and also of the three Freely Associated States: Federated States of Micronesia (FSM), Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI), and Republic of Palau (ROP). Collectively, these territories and states are referred to as the US-affiliated Pacific Island jurisdictions (USAPI). At the end of 2009, the Guam-CNMI Military Build-Up Committee/Task Force merged with the OPC and military buildup issues in the Western Pacific continue to have high priority at OPC meetings.

Data collection methods

This report captures information regarding fiscal year (FY) 2015 funding for federal programs which are active in the Pacific jurisdictions.. The report is not inclusive of all federal programs which are implemented in the Pacific. Each year we have identified additional programs to include in the report and revisit our inclusion criteria. To ensure as comprehensive a report as possible, we will continue to consider new agencies as we become aware of their funding and program information.

The report is organized by federal department and includes descriptions of programs, points of contact, and funding amounts awarded to Pacific jurisdictions in FY2015. Graphs at the beginning of the report provide a summary of FY15 funding received by each Pacific jurisdiction and by awarding department.

Data source: We have recorded and presented information received from the point of contact for reporting federal agencies. For FY 2015, financial assistance mechanisms were expanded beyond grants and cooperative agreements to include the following: Categorical Block grant, Categorical Formula grant, Insurance, Loans, Payments

Program/Project inclusion: If a grant program has existed in previous reports but did not receive funding for FY2014, this program will not appear in this report.

Jurisdiction's eligibility: In previous years, the jurisdiction's eligibility to apply for a grant program was noted in the funding table. This year, eligibility will be included in overall description for each program.
